The Advertisers' Cyclopedia.

This wonderfully complete presenta-tion of advertising ideas, advertising phrases and advertising methods is a necessity to everyone who has any kind of merchandise to sell, either over the counter, through the mails, or by traveling salesmen. It is indispensable to everyone who has any kind of a proposition to make to the public. The busy merchant, who many times falls to get the best returns from his adver-tising, either from lack of time or from ising, either from lack of time or from vant of the "knack" of preparing a atchy ad, will find this book a won-catchy ad., will find this book a wonderful help.

The Dry Goods Economist says:

The Advertisers' Cyclopedia should prove invaluable as an assistance to dealers in general lines and specialists in special lines of business, including mail order dealers, as well as advertisement writers, as it facilitates the expression of ideas in the preparation and compilation of advertising copy. Merchants can in many cases use bodity advertisements which it in their own lines without violating any code of ethics, as dealers in other cities who or is really used them can hardly be conriginally used them can hardly be considered competitors."

As a time-saver alone, the book will pay for itself in a short time.

pay for itself in a short time.

The Bankers' Magazine says:
This book enables one to select the appropriate advertisement in the twinkling of an eye. Were but one man, versed in salesmanship, to assert his ideas thereon, it would be of great value to himself and others. How immeasurably more so, then, the combined classifications of a thousand trained minds! No less does this great compilation offer to each and every empilation offer to each and every

The child is captured and carried off to the tepes, and tied to a stake, while the mother escapes and puts for the woods to find the husband, who, in company with the wood choppers, make an attack upon the Indian camp and capture the child after a terrific fight. An Outlaw's Sacrifice is another truly western picture that deals wholly with cowboy life and shows a perfectly constructed plot, with some glimpses of the grandeur of the western scenery. This is a most exciting orn scenery. This is a most exciting secture, with a splendid moral the sectures being wonderfully brilliant Manager McNulty was in New York Thursday and selected for the chil-dren's pleasure today at the matinee a whole reel of juvenile comedy that is bound to please the youngsters who fill the theater on Saturdays.

Miss Wolcott is heard to excellent advantage in two fine songs.

BROADWAY THEATER.

Today is your last chance to witness the Marcello Trio in their acrobatic stants and they have been winning an unusual amount of applause this week. The children want to be sure and see Roland Travers, the illusionist. He passes out candy at every performance. Nevins and Gordon, the compared sketch entitled The Little Manicipals, is something out of the ordinary, and the scarecrow skit is wonserful and makes a great laugh. Mark Cobden, the Scotch comedian, cannot be beaten.

be beaten.

Starting next Monday we will present the largest bill ever seen in this city. Gus Horsbrook's Broncho Busters, which contains eight people and three horses. The stunts that these horses and men go through on the stage will open your eyes and the quartette with this act is simply great. St. James and Dacre in their comedy sketch are guaranteed to be laughgeiters, and Si Jenks, the rube comedian is very classy and his line of jokes are all up to date. The Landry Broa. are equilibrists of no ordinary class. They do all kinds of balancing, etc., which is very entertaining. The usual complete change of motion pictures will be made daily.

THE AUDITORIUM.

oday will be the last chance to see exceptionally good bill that is now ag at this popular playhouse, for ay an entirely new show comes in the be headed by White's Mule acreamingly funny but still ng vaudeville turn. This act representation of what may any good circus with arts and all that goes is positively the fun-al acts and is a big Mr. White carries

FOETRY

BETWEEN THE LIGHTS.

little pause in life, while daylight Between the sunset and the pale When daily labor slips from weary fingers.
And soft gray shadows vell the aching eyes.

Old perfumes wander back from of clover Seen in the light of suns that long have set. Beloved ones, whose earthly toll is Draw near as if they lived among

Old voices call me through the dusk returning:
I hear the eschoes of departed fact.
And then I ask with cain and troubled What is the charm that makes all things so sweet?

Must the old joys be evermore with-Even their memory keeps me purp And yet, from out Jerusalem the Golden, God speaketh, saying: "I make all things new."

"Father," I cry, "the old must still b Stiffe my love or give me back the Give me the fair old earth, whose paths Than all Thy shining streets and mansions vast."

Peace, peace! The Lord of earth and heaven knoweth
The human soul in all its heat and strife;
Out of His throne no stream of lethe floweth, But the clear river of eternal life He giveth life; aye, life in all it

Sweetness;
Old loves old sunny scepes will He restore.
Only the curse of sin and incompleteness Shall taint thine earth, and vex thine Serve Him in daily work and earnest

Then shall lift thee to His sunlit heights;
Then shall a psalm of gladness and thanksgiving
Fill the calm hour that comes between the lights.
